No futebol, a pontuação de um gol é simples; primeira vista, mas a regra para marcar mais de um gol pode gerar algumas dúvidas. Ao contrário de alguns esportes, como o hóquei no gelo e o lacrosse, onde cada gol tem um valor de pontuação fixo, no futebol a pontuação de um gol depende do momento do jogo que ele é marcado.

No futebol, geralmente, cada time começa o jogo com um marcador zero a zero, e o objetivo de cada time é marcar o maior número de gols possível. A equipe que tiver feito o maior número de gols ao final do jogo é declarada vencedora. Se ambas as equipes marcarem o mesmo número de gols, o jogo é declarado empatado.

No entanto, alguns torneios, como a Copa do Mundo da FIFA, têm partidas decididas nos minutos extras se os dois times estiverem empatados no final do jogo regulamentar e da prorrogação, caso haja empate. Em resumo, a regra é simples: quantos mais gols uma equipe conseguir marcar, melhor será o código promocional do esporte no placar. Não há limite para o número de gols que podem ser marcados no jogo, e por isso que o futebol é considerado um esporte de pontuação alta e empolgante, especialmente nos momentos decisivos do jogo.
